Letter from Sue

At the end of May, I was trying to set up camp at Big Church Day Out with Kirsty from our church and Zoe (12), from St Paul's, Goose Green. Kirsty and Zoe had arrived separately with a car load of equipment and I had our large car packed to the ceiling. We got through registration and dragged our gear to a spot that looked a good place to camp. We marked out a space big enough for our 15 tents with the gear we had brought down and left Zoe as we back to our cars for more. It was really hot and we were all overdressed with nothing handy to change into.

When I got back to Zoe, another group had encroached over our boundaries and already had tents up within our space! Poor Zoe had tried to stop them but it was hard for a 12 year to challenge a large group of teenagers. I was really annoyed and had to remind myself that confronting them and asking them to move would not be edifying, although, as usual, I'm sure my face showed exactly what I thought!

I had a phone call from Lee who was camping with his family as part of Church Wigan – he had arrived and was trying to find us. What a relief to have help – and another adult! Lee found a better spot for us with more space, helped us get all our equipment from the car and took charge of putting up all the tents we had brought. He explained that he used to be a BB leader and had sorted out many such camps as a young adult, but since then he had got married and been distracted by other things on Sundays. He had been away from church for many years and his faith had petered out.

Letter from Sue

I was keen to know what had brought him back to church. He explained that their family had been going through a really difficult time and was 'falling apart'. His wife Karen's close friend had suggested that Karen and her went on an Alpha Course together and as Karen felt that she had exhausted all other options; she went.

Through the films they watched, the conversations they had and her experiences on the course, Karen decided that she wanted to become a Christian and follow Jesus. After seeing and hearing the change in Karen, Lee decided to go on Alpha too. They now describe their family life as amazing, a complete turnaround from the broken place they were in before.

It was as simple as that – Karen's friend invited her and went with her on Alpha, Karen got to know Jesus and her life was changed. Karen told Lee and their family was transformed!

There will be two Alpha Courses starting in our hub in September. On Monday 17th, midday at St Luke's and on Wednesday 19th in Holy Trinity at 7pm. Alpha always starts with food! On Mondays it will be a three course meal (or less if you prefer) from Fur Clemt Stubshaw and on Wednesdays just puddings. After food we watch a film and then chat about the film or other things you may want to discuss. It's very informal and relaxed and will last about an hour and a half in total.

If you've not done Alpha, please think about coming and if you have, then come with a friend who hasn't!

PEACE AND RECONCILIATION

Peace I leave with you; my peace I give you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Do not let your hearts be troubled and do not be afraid

John 14:27

We ask you Lord, to help us grow in faith, love and understanding.

May a deeper commitment to you enable us to help and to reconcile families and cultures.

Guide us, as individuals, to help others who are suffering trauma and persecution and, as communities, enable us to understand and to welcome other cultures.

With your guidance, Lord, may we achieve unity in families and within society. Amen

God in the Arts

‘He gave us eyes to see them’ - Michelangelo’s Sistine Chapel

‘You need hands to hold someone you care for’ – that song of 1958 reminds us how hands can convey a wide range of gestures and meanings. Hands to embrace, hands to signal ‘Stop,’ hands to sound out applause, and hands to show welcome. In the life of the church, we can think of sacraments that mark out the individual Christian with the laying on of hands at confirmation and ordination. We can look at the priest at the eucharist where hands offer the peace, take bread and wine, and bless. In church windows and paintings, we often see the right hand of God emerging from a cloud: a sign that takes us back to the opening chapter of Genesis and God’s mighty work of creation.

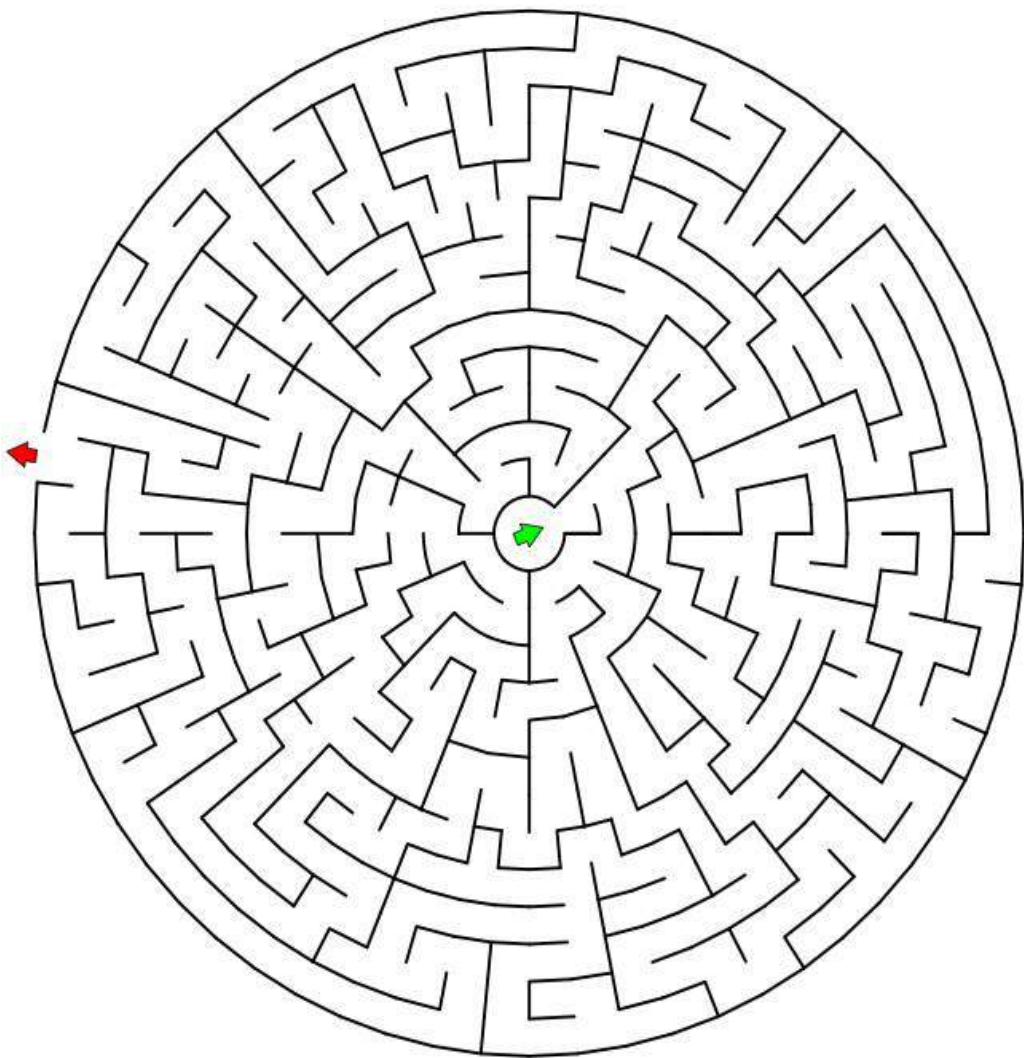

It is the theme of that incredible ceiling in the Sistine Chapel painted by Michelangelo: 65 feet above the ground and showing a vast array of 300 figures - sibyls and prophets and scenes from Genesis. On the far wall of the chapel the hand of Jesus is raised in judgement, but at the centre of the ceiling the hand of God reaches out to bring life to the body of Adam. Later, the right hand of God will draw forth Eve from the sleeping form of Adam: the only panel in which God stands on the earth. In this central panel God is like an elemental force soaring through the sky and surrounded by 12 figures. Adam looks up, patient and expectant, meeting the concentrated gaze of God, who reaches out to animate and inspire.

As his patron and ally, Pope Julius II was not at all well at this time, and so Michelangelo worked at breakneck speed to complete the ceiling. This scene took just three weeks in 1511. We look up and ponder the hand of the Creator in heaven, and we give thanks for the creative hand of the artist on earth.

The Big Bash!

JESUS OFTEN TOLD STORIES WITH HIDDEN MEANINGS

ONE STORY WAS ABOUT A RICH MAN WHO DECIDED TO HAVE A PARTY

HE SENT OUT LOTS OF INVITATIONS

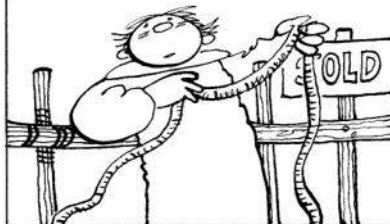

OH! NO!!

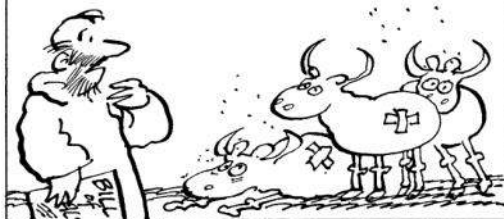

BUT PEOPLE STARTED MAKING EXCUSES

ONE MAN SAID HE HAD BOUGHT A FIELD, BUT NEEDED TO MEASURE IT

ANOTHER MAN SAID HE NEEDED TO TEST DRIVE THE OXEN HE HAS JUST PAID FOR ANOTHER MAN SAID HE HAD JUST GOT MARRIED - AND HIS WIFE WOULDN'T LET HIM OUT!

SO THE RICH MAN INVITED ALL THE POOR AND NEEDY INSTEAD.

YES - I CAN COME TO YOUR PARTY

THE PARABLE MEANS WE SHOULDN'T MAKE EXCUSES FOR NOT FOLLOWING JESUS.

The Incredibles II (PG)

Directed by Brad Bird

Starring the Voices of: Craig T. Nelson, Holly Hunter, Samuel L. Jackson, Bob Odenkirk, Catherine Keener, Sarah Vowell, Brad Bird, Eli Fucile, Huck Milner, Michael Bird, Sophia Bush, Isabella Rossellini, and Jonathan Banks

In a Nutshell: When you've wanted a film for as long as you remember, how do you react when the moment finally arrives that you get to see it before your eyeballs? You could imagine a lot of sleepless nights and excited dancing, but the truth is you just get ready and go to see it... so many years saying it was the only Pixar film that truly needed a sequel and then finally it has happened, and was it worth the wait? Oh you bet your cats' spandex fridge it is, but the real question is does it match the original or does it actually surpass it and run ahead? I'd say it falls right on the first one, it's almost every bit as good... maybe a comparison would be a 98% if the original was 100%? I do hope that makes some semblance of sense... but yeah it's utterly fantastic. Rather than going for a years later approach, it simply jumps off from the end of the first into a brand new story that takes place mere minutes after the Underminer attacks. This gives plenty of great opportunities to really explore the characters more rather than skip ahead to when they're older plus gives the film ample opportunity to explore the real star of the show, Jack Jack and his many powers and what happens when everyone figures that out and has to deal... and the little guy steals every scene and moment with many ingenious set pieces and massive laughs, especially involving a certain raccoon. The plot itself really explores a lot of interesting avenues not least the role reversal with Elastigirl being the big hero and Mr Incredible having to stay home and play families.... which explores great ideas of the man feeling jealous of the wife and feeling like his manhood is being threatened and it really chimes with the current surge for female led superheroes and movies in general too... it explores great ideas, has great characters and massive laughs... it's essentially what you want it to be and it's a massive treat for literally everyone... sure towards the end some reveals are a little predictable but it's still worth every minute you've had to wait, oh and the short film is something else entirely.... the wait is finally over, treat yourself!

Jurassic World: Fallen Kingdom (12A)

Directed by J.A Bayona

Stars: Chris Pratt, Bryce Dallas Howard, Rafe Spall, Justice Smith, James Cromwell, Ted Levine, Daniella Pineda, Toby Jones, BD Wong, Geraldine Chaplin, Isabella Sermon, and Jeff Goldblum

In a Nutshell: The anticipation of a sequel is a huge thing, can it live up to the original? It tends to be that it follows a huge hit that is beloved, sometimes it's following up a film that was fine but nothing too special... what happens then? You get excited because it's got people you love and you enjoyed enough in their adventures and you wanna see if they can do something more and a little more radical and exciting and take it to a new different place... and that's basically then place we find ourselves dwelling in here. It's a weird feeling, I did really have a fun time with Jurassic World and I love Chris Pratt, and his relationship with Blue was a highlight and the finale was great fun and the film on a whole was ace entertainment.. but watching it back and reflecting, it was what it was, another Jurassic movie that undoubtably cool but really nothing too new or exciting, so I kinda wait in hope that a ace director like Bayona will provide something new and radical for this follow on, that will make it something more than just yet another dino blockbuster that's simply fun but fairly forgettable. Sadly, the answer is nope. Don't get me wrong, I still had a lot of fun hence the decent score... but the biggest problem you have here is the trailer tells you the whole plot and gives you a solid idea of every single thing, scene and plot point that will happen.... so there are zero surprises really, yeah there's jumpy moments and fun scenes but literally nothing surprises or upends any expectations and there's not much too original or radical or different really too. Bayona gives it a good sheen of gothic creepiness and there's some interesting issues about saving the dinosaurs.... but my overwhelming feeling was oh well afterwards and not just because there's like 10 seconds of Jeff Goldblum, which just isn't right. The central dynamic between Pratt and Howard is huge fun and those guys are having a great time and provide loads of fun, and the whole cast to be fair is having fun and providing memorable moments, not least the great Toby Jones as an odious Trump-haired auctioneer and Rafe Spall as a slimy suit, not to mention a great role for the terrific James Cromwell. It's certainly the sort of film that will make a ton of money, but people will probably either enjoy it enough, shrug their shoulders or really take against it. It leaves it wide open at the end, so there's 100% going to be more and I'm way more interested now in where that will go and will they employ more Goldblum?
