Letter from the Vicar

‘Transforming Wigan’ is a phrase that you will hear more and more of over the next few years. Hopefully it will become more than a phrase, a slogan or even a project and become known more as a movement and an enabler of growth.

The Director for Mission in Wigan, Tim Montgomery, describes it this way: “the Transforming Wigan vision is to engage 10% of people in the discipleship journey with Jesus. Transforming Wigan is all about helping people follow Jesus rather than about trying to preserve people in church buildings. It’s a shift from trying to work out how to not just look after the 1% of Christians who go to church - to trying to work out how we engage with the other 99% of people who might be interested in exploring Jesus’ call to “follow me”.

If ‘church’ really is the plural of ‘disciple’ then it is very likely that we will be exploring some new ways of gathering bunches of disciples together in the future. We will begin to focus on making and growing disciples of Jesus - who make and grow disciples of Jesus.”

Really, this is only focussing on doing what Jesus tells us to in the Great Commission - to make and grow disciples. It is an exciting prospect that will see churches grow and develop, see church (that is the people) impacting local communities, see new ways of working closely with other agencies and organisations, but most importantly it will see transformed lives as more people come to know and follow Jesus.

There will be much work to do and much patience, love and compassion needed as we journey together. A key foundation to all that will be achieved is that we seek God's will rather than simply implement our own plans. Therefore, a particular focus for Transforming Wigan will be prayer. And again, 'the vision is simple and ambitious: to see prayer on every patch of ground in every moment of every day.' This is possible when every church and every denomination, every church member - in church or at home, in groups or in quiet times alone - join together in a new network of prayer. That Wigan will indeed be transformed.

If you are interested in joining us in prayer then contact us and we will help you to get involved. We will begin with a regular update, offering prayer pointers and opportunities to gather to pray together. For now, simply pray for Transforming Wigan, for its vision and its initial aims, but particularly for God's will to be known and for us to join Him in building his Kingdom.

St. Thomas' C of E Primary School

A New Year

A full school assembly took place on Wednesday 2nd September to mark the beginning of the new academic year. Following meaningful prayers and some special singing to praise our Lord Mrs Jones delivered an inspiring sermon to all staff and pupils, encouraging everyone to always strive to achieve their best and to be kind to each other, as well as wishing everyone lots of happiness throughout the new school year.

The 30 new pupils that started Reception Class (and of course would have felt a bit timid and nervous at first) have all settled in very well, in no small measure thanks to the help of our excellent Early Years Team. The Reception children are now all enjoying school, having lots of fun, learning new things and making new friends,

John 3 (1:4)

"Nothing makes me happier than to hear that my children live in the truth".

Back to School Prayer

Father,
We thank you for the opportunity to begin this school year, and we ask you to bless all the teachers, children and our families that make our school a great place.

We pray that you will guide us in all ways, so that we will seek your will in everything we do.

We ask this in the name of Jesus Christ our Lord.
Amen.

I would like to welcome all our new children and at the same time wish a success to all the students who have just left us.

God's blessings be with you in all that you do.

Elaine Mateus

1st Ashton in Makerfield

Firstly Congratulations to 2 of our officers, Kat Duckworth and Jonathan Cornthwaite who got married at the beginning of August. We wish them well for their future together.

We have now all returned from our Summer break and are all looking forward to a good Autumn Session.

Anchors have 4 new recruits who are settling in well. This year, our groups have a Star Wars theme –

Team Jedi, Team Skywalker and Team Jedi so we hope the force will be with them as they journey.

Both Juniors and Company welcomed their promoted boys from last year.

We are always open to new recruits and our aim this year is to try to double our company numbers.

We have room in all sections so if you know any boys who are in Year 1 or above, (up to age 16) we would love them to join us. (Note: Reception children can come along in May next year)

An advance notice for our Christmas Fayre to be held in the Church Hall on Saturday 7th November between 11.00 am and 1.00pm. Any donations for the Tombola or raffle would be gratefully received.

The Film Review

With Rob Carson

Mission Impossible: Ghost Protocol (12A) Directed by Christopher McQuarrie

Stars: Tom Cruise, Simon Pegg, Rebecca Ferguson, Sean Harris, Jeremy Renner, Ving Rhames, and Alec Baldwin

In a Nutshell: Not many franchises or series of movies can get themselves to five movies and retain their dignity in a big way, never mind get to a fifth movie and have it be one of the best ones.... but if anyone can, Tom Cruise can. After the series highpoint of Ghost Protocol, hopes were high for the follow up to be as big and cool as that delight. And it's a mission succeeded if not surpassed, but that's no bad thing. With globe trotting intrigue, a big conspiracy, the CIA on the trail of our hero making him a rogue element, exotic ladies and exotic locations and a shadowy villain who's always a step ahead and very creepy... this has all the makings of a top spy thriller and it ticks off the usual spots with relish, whilst bringing back all your favourite characters and introducing a few new faces too. Cruise as always, is very game, jumping into a lot of massive stunts with gusto (not least the well known plane stunt and a daring underwater heist) and turning the charisma up to the top as well as proving a rugged and flawed hero, vulnerable yet willing to save the day... Simon Pegg proves the real heart as Benji, getting more into the action and making a good foil for Ethan as well as being really sweet yet serious at equal turns... whilst Rhames and Renner make a neat double act and new girl Rebecca Ferguson steals it as the mysterious Ilsa, who plays both sides and you never know what she will do next.... Baldwin as always is fun as the CIA head on Ethan's tail and Sean Harris is a quietly menacing nemesis. The action is big and fun, the characters are great, the locations are dazzling... what more do you need from a series that just keeps getting better and better, well nearly anyway... not much can be as awesome as Ghost Protocol at least. Rating: 9/10

Fantastic Four (12A) Directed by Josh Trank

Stars: Miles Teller, Michael.B.Jordan, Kate Mara, Jamie Bell, Toby Kebbell, Reg.E.Cathy, and Tim Blake Nelson

In a Nutshell: There is such a thing as anti-hype. As much as hype sets you up to be very excited for a movie and how good it might be, then the anti-hype sets you up for a fall, makes you dread a movie and just how bad can it be? And so went the pre-release anti-hype for this movie, and it's totally unfair and to be truthful hard to tell exactly where it came from... true the actual reviews it got were pretty damning too, but the eagerness for this film to fail even before that, wow! All I can say is it isn't anywhere near that bad, but it's a far drop from what could have been.... in the end, this is a bold attempt to shake up an established formula that somewhere along the line got shook up itself and went everywhere sadly. I can't fault the casting, Jamie Bell is as always pretty darn solid as Ben Grimm and Miles Teller, so terrific in Whiplash, is a solid choice for Reed, ditto Kate Mara whilst Michael.B.Jordan is a nice twist on the usual casting for Johnny Storm and the back story they created to explain this is sweet and well realised.... and Toby Kebbell was so great in Dawn of the Planet of the Apes and steals so many other films that it seems a good choice too... it's just somewhere along the way there performances wind up just ok, not bad just decent without really trying. The effects are impressive one minute and a bit everywhere the next... and whilst for most of the movie, it's trying this dark and serious tone and a realistic take on the material, more gritty and drama based... at the end it just turns into a Power Rangers episode, both with silly villains and with terribly cliched dialogue and action. Doctor Doom himself, is a terrible waste of Kebbell's talents... starting off a interesting antagonist and once reawoken as Doom, the standout sequence of the movie occurs as he unleashes his powers in a really dark and gory way that is really really fairly chilling... but why does he then turn into the silliest looking villain ever and completely fall flat after that? Like I said, it's nowhere near as mind numbingly terrible 'worst film ever' as you've been led to believe, but it's sadly a bit of a muddled fail all the same... and I guess it's only fitting that this review seems all over the place too, though probably not intentionally. It's worth a look, but throw your expectations to the floor and be open minded at the very least....

With Rob Carson

The story behind ... O God, our help in ages past

O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal home!

Under the shadow of Thy throne
Still may we dwell secure;
Sufficient is Thine arm alone,
And our defence is sure...

A thousand ages in The sight
Are like an evening gone;
Short as the watch that ends the night,
Before the rising sun.

Isaac Watts (1674 – 1748) is often called the 'Father of English hymnody'. Certainly before his hymns came along, congregational singing was a tedious business.

Watts was born in July 1674 in Southampton. (At the time of his birth, his father, an educated deacon in a dissenting Congregational church, was briefly in prison for his non-conformist beliefs.) As a boy, Watts showed outstanding ability with language (learning Greek, Hebrew, Latin and French). He also had an unusual ability for easy rhyming in English. (At the age of five, when scolded for giggling in family prayers, it was because he had seen a mouse on the bell-rope, and instantly composed the line: 'There was a mouse, for want of stairs, ran up a rope to say his prayers!')

Watts' literary ability, combined with his interest in theology, made him very unhappy with the congregational singing of the day, which focused almost entirely on strict metrical versions of the psalms. One Sunday after church, Isaac complained to his father about this. His father challenged him to write something better. Though only 18, Watts accepted the challenge, and produced his first hymn – which was duly sung the following Sunday.

It was such a success that he wrote new hymn texts every Sunday for the next two years. In all, he went on to write more than 600 hymns. Some of them are still well-loved today: from this one, 'O God, Our Help in Ages Past', which is a paraphrase of Psalm 90, to 'When I Survey the Wondrous Cross', and the Christmas carol 'Joy to the World'.

The ageing Church

British society is ageing. What are some of the implications for the churches?

Age of retirement. Should ministers, elders, trustees and others continue to retire at, say, 65, or, as in a number of denominations like the Church of England, at 70? Roman Catholic priests are not expected to retire until they are 75. Should the age be extended to be more in line with the age of congregations?

Impact of older people. Their physical ability is usually less, (often finding stairs difficult, for example). Not all older people enjoy modern, especially loud, worship. Some churches are already appointing a Minister for Older People. Are ministers in training being prepared to serve the needs of congregations where older people dominate? The increased life expectancy will mean that there are more married people at older ages.

Helping Grandparents. Many Third Agers are grandparents, with an average of 4.4 grandchildren in the UK. Many will spend part of their time looking after their grandchildren two or more days a week. In what practical ways can Christian grandparents be more than just child-minders/entertainers, and instead share Christian truth and values? Should the churches provide facilities especially for grandparents?

Finance. Third Agers may become less able to give as much support as they used to. How can churches cope with dwindling financial resources? However, in the Church of England, total giving in 2013 amounted to £953 million, the highest amount ever given to the church, with an average member giving £13 per week.

Transport. The older people get, the less easy it is for them to travel to church, doctor or hospital. Can churches help by providing some kind of transport rota, even 'bussing' people to church? Public transport is frequently simply not convenient for many older people, and often too infrequent. Numbers using Mobility Scooters may also increase, churches needing space for access.

Elderly evangelism. Proportionately more elderly go to church than in other age-groups, but there are yet many who do not go to church at all, and still need to be reached with the Gospel. But like any group of churchgoers, they need to be befriended and enabled to join in suitable church activities. When Jesus said, "The fields are white, ready to harvest," that included those 65 and over!

EDITH CAVELL

Edith Cavell was a British nurse in charge of a hospital in Belgium during the First World War. She saved the lives of soldiers from both sides and helped Allied soldiers escape from German-occupied Belgium during the First World War, for which she was arrested.

Her strong Christian beliefs led her to help all those who needed it: she said, "I can't stop while there are lives to be saved."

Despite international pleas for mercy, she was shot by a German firing squad. The night before her execution, she told the Revd. Gahan, the Anglican chaplain who gave her Holy Communion: "Patriotism is not enough. I must have no hatred or bitterness towards anyone."

In the Anglican Church, 12th October is her commemoration day. This year Nurse Cavell is featured on a special £5 coin to mark the centenary of the war.
